

International Mother Language Day

February 21, 2025

“Language is an essential part of a nation's identity, and it's the duty of every citizen to preserve and promote it.” - Mahatma Gandhi

International Mother Language Day (IMLD) is celebrated on February 21st every year to promote linguistic diversity, multilingualism, and cultural heritage. The objective is to preserve endangered languages and promote language documentation.

APS celebrated International Mother Language Day on February 21, 2025 with great enthusiasm and fervor. The program began with a solemn inaugural ceremony, where our young anchors of classes II and III highlighted the significance of mother languages in shaping our identity and culture. The event featured a range of cultural performances, including Skit showing importance of different languages. Students showcased a vibrant Dance on ‘ Mile Sur Mera Tumhara...’. They also presented a Gujarati song as the State language is Gujarati. The audience appreciated the performance of the tiny tots. The assembly concluded with the address by (Principal cum Director, APS) Mr. Hemant Kumar Sharma in which he emphasized the importance of promoting linguistic diversity and preserving mother languages. He encouraged the students to take pride in their mother languages and to work towards their preservation.

The International Mother Language Day celebration at APS Mundra was a resounding success. The event not only promoted linguistic diversity but also fostered a sense of community and shared heritage among the participants. We look forward to continue this tradition in the years to come. (Principal – cum – Director, APS) Mr. Hemant Kumar Sharma and (Vice Principal, APS) Dr. Renu Patidar appreciated teachers for their guidance and congratulated students for giving their best.
